(Eatontown, NJ) July 21, 2006 – D&S Consultants, Inc. (DSCI) today announced that it will donate all proceeds generated from its Alcatraz: The Ride™ attraction featured at Six Flags Great Adventure, Jackson, NJ to the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund. The Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund honors those American heroes in our armed forces who have sacrificed their lives by providing educational scholarships for their children. DSCI's donation coincides with "Sean Hannity's Freedom Concert" in support of the Freedom Alliance Scholarship Fund. The event takes place Friday July 21, 2006 at Six Flags Great Adventure in New Jersey, and will feature country music stars Sara Evans, Hank Williams Jr., and Lee Greenwood and will be hosted by TV and radio personality Sean Hannity and Col. Oliver North (the founder of the Freedom Alliance.) Mr. Hannity will broadcast his radio show live from the Freedom Concert and will be joined by injured and recuperating military heroes (and their families.)

"We are honored to take part in a charitable event of such importance" said DSCI's Chief Executive Officer, Steven A. De Chiaro. "Americans everywhere are indebted to the brave men and women of our armed forces. It is our collective responsibility as Americans to see that those who have sacrificed so much, the true heroes and their families, are never forgotten."

About DSCI:

DSCI, founded in 1992, is a rapidly growing, employee owned, corporation providing solutions (engineering services and products) to complex problems within the Communications, Command, Control, Computers, Intelligence, Reconnaissance, and Surveillance (C4ISR) space.
